

BRINGING YOUR AUDIENCE EVEN CLOSER TO THE EXPERIENCE

LIV GOLF

AIMS TO TAKE GOLF AUDIO ON A REALLY LONG DRIVE

The premiere Centurion Club tournament went right for audio’s leading edge in broadcast-golf audio, fitting nine of the round’s 18 holes with Q5X’s Golf Hole Microphones and mounting Q5X’s PlayerMics on as many as a half dozen players.

Read More.

MLB, ESPN A NEW LEVEL OF AUDIO

Ever since Reds first baseman Joey Votto first donned a Q5X PlayerMic transmitter and Countryman B6 microphone element, along with an earpiece for foldback, for Cincinnati’s April 7 season opener in Atlanta, baseball players haven’t stopped talking on ESPN’s Sunday Night Baseball.

Read More.

NBA SUMMER LEAGUE AUDIO

PUSHING THE ENVELOPE

This year’s series at the Thomas & Mack Center and Cox Pavilion in Las Vegas showed off some really cool innovations that viewers will likely be hearing this fall.

Read More.

ENHANCED AUDIO FOR SPORTS

PLAYER AUDIO IS THE FUTURE

Q5X transmitters have revolutionized audio capture for televised sports. Enhancing fan engagement is the objective. By capturing more audio from the field of play, from the players themselves, or from the actual field, Q5X transmitters are the smartest and best choice.

Learn More.

Follow us on social media for exciting news and updates.